In celebration of African American History Month, we invite you to help transcribe the fully digitized pension application file for Laura A. Douglass, Widow of Sergeant Charles R. Douglass, Company F, 54th Massachusetts Infantry Regiment and Company I, 5th Massachusetts Cavalry Regiment. Charles R. Douglass was the third son of abolitionist, orator, writer, and statesman Frederick Douglass. This Civil War pension file includes records for disability pension in the decades after the war and his second wife's application for a widow's pension.

Hon. Sec. of Pension
Common Pension
Dear Sir,
I beg to inform you that I have to ask a reconsideration of my claim for Invalid Pension No. 690366, and that I have to do so, so that my pension may begin from date of filing instead of as has been from date of my last examination.
I filed a claim on account of partial deafness of both ears on the 15 day of January 1877. In view of the fact that I was examined to appear for medical examination, which I did August 12, 1877 before the Board on 5th April Street Boston. I do not about remember the examination. I was quite a number of times to be examined which I suppose was the reason my pension was not granted. At the time of my first examination I was totally deaf in right ear, and slightly in left. My examination was over in less than five minutes after it began. I was surprised at one that I ought to apply for another examination, but I did not apply for another had completed my residence. I then applied for another examination and was ordered before the Board on New York Avenue. I appeared April 10, 1880 and was examined fully and thoroughly.
